

Dear Customer,

Spring 2007 Beads

Lund Trading is happy to announce that the Spring 2007 Trollbeads are on their way! The beads are expected to arrive at the end of March or beginning of April, but feel free to place your order now. With your order you will also receive updated pages for your binder.

There will be six (6) much awaited purple glass beads, a Spring bead, which is similar to the Winter bead, and a whole new alphabet in both silver and 18kt gold.

The Tibet beads have been retired and will no longer be available.

Chain Ordering Modification

Lund Trading is going to start selling the Trollbeads bracelets and necklaces as they do in the rest of the World; with no clasp. You will need to order the double clasp or one of our decorative locks with every order of chain. To accommodate this change we will have a new price and part number for chain without a clasp. However, the separate prices for the chain and the clasp will equal the old price for the two combined. In other words, this is not a price increase, just an order modification.

We will update the order forms and all other printed material. Please make note of this for future reorders.

Thank you for your continued support of Lund Trading.

Sincerely,
The Staff at Lund Trading
